Scars won't heal

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

It's unlikely any construction will be taking place at the three excavation sites on Bobcaygeon Road this summer, and plans for a bowling alley along the same stretch have also been put on hold.

Development of the sites, which have been called "scars" by Minden council, has been either stalled or dropped.

The excavation site closest to the downtown core is currently for sale by the owner with no plan for development.

The middle site, upon which Ted Reid and Doug Johnson were proposing a commercial plaza with apartments, has been stalled after a change in the original plan.

When the development first came to council, the developers where proposing a street-level plaza with apartments on the second storey. However the plans had to be changed in order to meet Ministry of Transportation guidelines for the entrance.

New drawings have been completed, but Johnson has now dropped out of the project. The township is prepared to issue a building permit for the site as soon as finalized drawings are submitted.

The third site, owned by Brad Bradamore is still in the process of being rezoned to a Commercial designation, and the application is being reviewed by township planner Bob Lehman. After the site is rezoned, Bradamore still has to submit a site plan before a building

Board to build additions to schools

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

In order to deal with overcrowded classrooms in Minden and Haliburton elementary schools, the board of education has decided to build additions in the two villages.

By increasing the size of the Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden, the board of education hopes to eliminate the use of the IGA building and portables.

An addition to the J.D. Hodgson Elementary School in Haliburton will replace classrooms in the Lakeview school, which is being sold to Sir Sandford Fleming College, and the Victoria Street School.

The additions to the two schools are part of a five-point action plan presented by the board at last Tuesday's meeting.

Education Director Stuart Baker says the board has not yet determined when the construction will take place, a decision that will have to wait until the availability of provincial funds is known.

Although Haliburton County has been left out of the Ministry of Education's five-year capital allocation program, the school board is continuing to lobby the province for funding.

Third meeting planned with Sean Conway to discuss schools

The board has already met with education minister Sean Conway on two occasions, once in Toronto and once in Haliburton. A third meeting is planned for sometime in the next two weeks.

Baker says the meeting will give the board the opportunity to explain its action plan to Conway and will also give ministry staff a chance to review class loadings to see if Haliburton County is any closer to being considered a high-priority situation.

While not expecting a firm commitment from Conway at the next meeting, Baker says the board may get an indication of where the local needs rate when compared to other areas of the province.

Baker says he's encouraged by the fact Conway has made himself available to listen to the concerns of the board of education and recognizes the need for additional classroom space.

Building additions to Archie Stouffer and J.D. Hodgson was one of three alternatives considered by the board of education. The other options involved building two new Kindergarten to Grade 3 schools, one in each village, or building a new Kindergarten to Grade 8 school to accommodate children from both Minden and Haliburton villages.

The board decided to put additions on the existing buildings instead of constructing a new school in each village because additions are more cost effective, says Baker.

In planning for long-term growth, the board has decided to form a committee to investigate the possibility of obtaining a site for an additional elementary school.

With the projected enrolment growth for the two villages, Baker says eventually Minden and Haliburton will have more students than Archie Stouffer and J.D. Hodgson can handle. When that happens the board will probably build a third school in a location somewhere between the two villages.

Although construction of the third school might be 10 years away, Baker says the board would be wise to aquire the necessary property now, before available land becomes scarce.

Arts diploma to be available through college

Sir Sandford Fleming is preparing to introduce a new program at Haliburton campus

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Students of Sir Sandford Fleming College's School of Fine Arts will soon be able to earn a Visual Arts Diploma through courses completed at the Haliburton Campus.

The program, designed by Haliburton principal Barb Bolin, has been given approval by Sir Sandford's board of governors and is now waiting for final approval by the Ministry of Colleges and Universities.

Bolin says the program will provide students with a well-rounded foundation in visual arts.

The diploma program is based on the exisiting Fine Arts courses available at the Haliburton campus during the summer and adds mandatory courses like Art History, Basic Design, Drawing and Portfolio preparation.

A student requires 28 credits to earn the diploma, with each credit representing 45 hours of a particular course. 12 of the credits are elective courses which are chosen from the courses already offered by the Fine Arts School.

Bolin says the program is flexible and each student will be able to choose electives best suited to his/her individual needs and interests.

Students who have completed courses at the school in the past will be able to apply their past credits to the diploma program, as long as the courses were taken within the last eight years.

The mandatory courses which make up 16 of the credits have been developed to meet the needs of students who will be working towards the diploma.

Because many of the students who attend the Haliburton School of Fine Arts during the summer supplement their incomes by teaching, either at colleges or with guilds, the program includes a course in Instructional Techniques.

The Small Business Management course will benefit those people who own their own studio or operate their own fine arts related business.

Bolin says it's not necessary for a student to a take all the courses at the Haliburton campus. The program is designed so students can complete some of their credits at other colleges during the winter before attending the school in Haliburton during the summer.

However, in order to earn the diploma, at least half of the credits must be earned at the School of Fine Arts in Haliburton.

As well as giving credit for past education, the school is also developing an assessment procedure for giving students credit for knowledge and experience gained outside of an institution.

Because the field of fine arts is a subjective discipline, Bolin says trying to assess people's previous experience will be a challenging task. She says a system is being devised to allow people to outline thier previous experience and present it to an assessment panel.

If the program receives ministry approval by this fall as expected, Bolin says it should be part of the college curriculum next summer.

HEY YOU TWO, EYES ON YOUR OWN PAPERS!: Local residents were given questionnaires to fill out after visiting the recent open houses held in Wilberforce, Minden and Haliburton. The open houses, organized by the steering committee studying Haliburton County's long-term health, social services and housing needs, were designed to let residents learn about the study and existing services.

Committee examines directions for long-term health care

by Carol Moffatt

The sixth Long-Term Care Reform information session took place at the Royal Canadain Legion last Wednesday morning.

The information sessions are being held throughout Ontario in order to attract public input for the long process of changing the parameters of long-term care in the province.

The purpose of the sessions is to review the strategic directions of the proposed reform. This is the first step of many in the process of gathering information and consulting with various health professionals. This fall, the goals established from the information gathered from the sessions will be implemented. The final results will be a much more cohesive, organized system of long term care in Ontario.

The most important basis of the reform involves services becoming community based. The increasing number of senior citizens in society must result in a growth of services.

Frank Wagner, Community Liaison Officer for Long-Term Care Reform, said the attempt to establish community-based alternatives is being made because there simply isn't the money needed to maintain the current system. Elderly and disabled people are living longer due to medical breakthroughs, but the current system cannot handle the caseload.

The goals of the reform are to maintain and increase independence, dignity, and a coherent support system. Dawn Berry Merriam, Assistant Executive Director for the District Health Council, outlined the principles of the reform. Individualization, or the ability of the elderly or the disabled to maintain their dignity and their uniqueness, topped the list.

Berry Merriam stressed the differences in urban and rural settings and how services differ because of locale, access and facilities. In a rural area, a stronger system is needed because in many cases, patients simply can't get to where they need to go, and often the places to which they have access don't have the facilities needed.

Independence and choice, community living, service accessibility, support to informal caregivers, local planning and management and affordability completed the list of principles.

The reform stresses people being allowed to have choices, to stay in their own homes, to have services come to them and to be able to afford the whole process.

An area of particular interest concerns support for the informal caregiver. That is, people who are not professionals but who spend many hours caring for family members who want to live at home rather than in a 'home'.

As the system stands, within six years the current government spending level will double due to the pressures on the system. In many areas of long-term care, the Ministry of Health and the Ministry of Social Services both deal with the same issues. This results in fragmentation of both management and services, confusion and an uneven distribution of services.

The province has committed $52 million toward strengthening community services. By 1996-97 this expenditure will rise to $640 million annually. This totals $2 billion in expenditures over the next six years.

Ten strategies have been developed which, based on existing programs and services, will develop into a coherent, integrated and co-ordinated system. Alan Cavell, Program Supervisor for Haliburton-Victoria County (Ministry of Community and Social Services) outlined the first eight issues.

Strategy One: Co-ordinating access to services. Currently, red tape and variable services result in lack of services for those who need them. Reform will establish a single administrative agency in each community to act as a point of access, referral,

New Minden hotel ready for ground breaking

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Three years after it was first proposed, The Minden Hotel is finally ready to break the sod.

Last Thursday Minden council approved the site plan agreement for the 40-room hotel complex being built off South Water Street on a 6.5 acre site which runs to Teasdale Street.

The project, which includes plans for a dining lounge, pub, banquet facilities and an athletic club, will occupy the hill behind the OPP station, General Lee's and the Brown Owl.

All that is required for a building permit to be issued for the hotel is a permit from the Ministry of Transportation because of the proximity to the highway.

The project was initially proposed three years ago by Minden resident John Stainton. Some neighbouring residents had concerns about the project and forced the issue to an Ontario Municipal Board hearing, which ruled in Stainton's favour.

Since that time, Stainton had been working to attract investors and ultimately sold the idea to Kevin Wood.

Stainton is still acting as a local liaison for this project.

Admission

On Saturday we heard one of the most revealing admissions that amalgamation of small municipalities is necessary since the process of restructuring this county began.

Surprisingly this admission came from Snowdon Township Reeve George Simmons, one of the people most likely to oppose moves toward amalgamation.

Simmons didn't actually state that amalgamation is necessary. In fact, he hinted that his council is gearing up for a fight to maintain the the status quo.

However, he did tell the members of the South Lake Association of Cottagers and Residents the township doen't have the finances necessary to enforce one of its own by-laws.

At Saturday morning's annual general meeting of SLACAR, the reeve said council is reluctant to enforce its new property standards by-law as it applies to the automobile holding yard on the shore of the lake. He said council could shut down Gord Lyddiatt's yard if it wanted to, but the court costs involved would be too much for the the municipality to bear.

Several months ago in conversation about the need for amalgamation, then Minister of Municipal Affairs John Eakins asked if all the municipalities in this county large enough to handle their own affairs. The answer to that question was clear Saturday morning.

After two years of struggling to solve the situation on South Lake, drafting a new by-law, issuing a cease and desist order, Snowdon Council is now admitting it does not have the resources it needs to effectively deal with its own affairs.

If amalgamation will cure this impotence, then perhaps it should be welcomed.

My fellow Canucks, it is with heavy heart that I bring this report to you today. I tried. I pored with red-rimmed eyes over dusty tomes of Canadian history. I buttonholed my contacts up on Parliament Hill and down at City Hall.

It's no use. The Americans have aced us once again.

When it comes to political klutzes, Canada just is not in the Big Leagues.

Oh, we've had our inspired amateurs. Pig-farmer-turned-culture-vulture Feliz Holtmann . . . Bob Stanfield fumbling footballs and Joe Clark fumbling elections. . .

Canada's had MP's consorting with hookers and a PM consulting with crystal balls, but as diverting as Canada's less skillfull politicians have been, they are strictly bush league beside America's Clown Prince of Politics.

Canada has never fielded a candidate as breathtaking as J. Danforth Quayle.

If little Danny Quayle had been left to his own devices, chances are he'd be a golf pro at some country club in his home state of Indiana. That's what he loves to do—play golf. Unfortunately for the would-be duffer, he possesses a profile that makes him look like Robert Redford, topped with a Kennedysque shock of wavy hair.

His ambitious wife and a posse of shrewd backroom boys knew an electable face when they saw one. They took the putter from Danny's hands, slipped him into a suit and tie and ran him for Senator. He won.

Even that might not have turned out so badly for the world—American senators are almost as harmless and irrelevant as the Canadian variety—but for reasons no one have ever been able to figure out, the eye of George Bush, president-to-be, fell on hapless Dan. Wheels were oiled and palms were greased and Danny Quayle, would-be golf pro became J. Danforth Quayle, Vice President of the United States—one heartbeat away from the most

More than half of CHMC units located in county

NOTE: The following letter is addressed to the Haliburton County Social Action Committee in regard to the request to renew the commitment for affordable housing.

Dear Ms. Robertson & Ms. King:

Thank you for your letter of June 6, 1990 with respect to the rural and Native Housing Program, as delivered in Haliburton County. The following information is intended to provide clarification to your request.

As you are aware, the Rural and Native Housing Program is a Federal/Provincial cost shared program. The purpose is to assist eligible families and individuals, in designated rural areas, obtain suitable, adequate and affordable housing for ownership, lease-to-purchase or rental. The Peterborough Office of Canada Mortgage & Housing Corporation is responsible for the delivery of the RNH program in four counties, specifically, Peterborough; Victoria; Haliburton and Northumberland. The delivery of our annual budget allocation is not pre-determined by location, but rather, is targetted based on need to the neediest clients.

In 1989, the Peterborough Office of CMHC received a capital budget allocation of 23 units. 13 units representing 56% of this allocation was delivered in Haliburton County. In addition, 2 units were re-acquired in Haliburton County by CMHC under the terms of the RNH program. These units were subsequently recycled to new client families.

It is expected that our final 1990 budget allocation will represent approximately 20 units, 50% of which has been promulgated, at this time. We have not, however, determined the location of our 1990 units, as we have not yet completed our final review of eligible applicants. We hope to complete this process within the next 4 weeks, to enable us to proceed with our Proposal Call for the construction of these units.

I would like to take this opportunity, however, to inform you of the evaluation for the Rural and Native Housing Programs, which is presently underway. As part of the public consultation process, CMHC is inviting the views and comments of interested groups and/or interested individuals to the RNH Consultation Paper. Acordingly, I am enclosing herewith a copy of the RNH Consultation Paper and would encourage you to provide your input and express your views.

In closing, I would like to express our sincerest appreciation of your continued support of the Rural and Native Housing program. Community based organizations, such as yours, provide invaluable assistance in ensuring the successful delivery of this program in rural areas. If I can be of any further assistance, please feel free to contact me.

Yours truly,
P.L. Fillion (Ms)
Manager

Support for local event appreciated

Editor:

As supporters of local community events, the Haliburton Scottish Country Dancers rented a P.A. System from Archie Dobbins of the Epsilon Satellite Company (Minden) to be used during the Ceilidh at the Haliburton Highland Games.

Mr. Dobbins duly arrived at 6:30 p.m. as per contract to install the P.A. System. Unfortunately, a day of very adverse weather had resulted in most visitors and participants going home early and it was apparent that the P.A. System would not be required.

Not only did Mr. Dobbins check back at 8 p.m. to ensure that the System would not be required, but, he then declined payment for his servies in this matter, intimating that he was supportive of all community efforts.

Be assured, Mr. Dobbins, that your public spirited gesture is greatly appreciated by the Haliburton Scottish Country Dancers.

powerful political office on the face of the earth.

Some cynics speculate that Dan Quayle is George Bush's walking bullet-proof vest—that even the most deranged assassin would never scrag George knowing goofy Dan was waiting in the wings. Other, kinder critics say that yes, Dan is . . . inexperienced . . . but a few years as Veep will put hair on his chest and some gray matter where right now, only aimless zephyrs blow.

All a realist can say is . . . not so far. In his two-and-a-bit years as Vice President, Quayle has stumbled from gaffe to pratfall to outright swan dive.

He told Hawaiians that their island plays a pivotal role in the Pacific because"it is IN the Pacific. It is a part of the United States that is an island that is right here."

He told El Salvadoran officials that America expected them to "work towards the elimination of human rights."

Remember Alexander Dubcek, the courageous Czeck who defied the Russians? Dan doesn't. "Who would have predicted" mused Dan on prime time TV, "that Dubeck, who brought the tanks in in Czechoslovakia in 1968 is now being proclaimed a hero in Czechoslobakia? Unbelievable."

Indeed.

My favourite Dan Quayle quote? That's easy. Dan was asked why America should send a mission to Mars. His reply: "We have seen pictures where there are canals, we believe, and water. If there is water, that means there is oxygen. If oxygen, that means we can breathe."

The dimmest reader of Captain Marvel comic books knows there's not enough air or water on Mars to support an anorexic amoeba. The second most powerful politician on the planet thinks differently.

Boy, does he think differently.

There's talk of a U.S. manned space voyage to Mars soon. I hope it happens.

Guess who I'm nominating for captain of the mission.

Celebrating a Highlands tradition

Attendance was down and the rain fell in buckets from the sky, but those who came out to the Haliburton Highlands Games last weekend had a blast.

About 1,000 people made it out to Glebe Park to watch the Celtic athlets heave huge wooden poles (cabers), hurl hammers and toss heavy rocks. They came to listern to the vibrating tone of bagpipes and drums echoing throughout the scenic park in Haliburton and to watch young dancers perform on the stage.

The stormy weather cut the attence to half of that from the previous year, but those who milled about the park proved to be a hardy soles. Even when the rains came the hardest, few were seen heading out of the park. Instead they found whatever shelter was available and watched the bands marche en masse across the main field.

The low attendance at this year's games will pose some financial problems,

A bit of rain doesn't bother a hardy Scotsman . . . and neither does a lot of rain. The skies threatened to drench the grounds at Glebe Park all morning, limiting the number of spectators who came out to the games. But those who came stayed in spite of the skies and in spite of the eventual downpour. And through it all they had a great time. Above: Highland dancing was a popular part of the games again this year. And with a bit of ingenuity and luck, this portion of the Highland Games did not have to be moved to the Dysart arena. Left: Haliburton's best-known piper was among the many in attendance. His grandson, Adam Earl Cooper, also seemed to enjoy the activities. Below left: when it did begin to pour, few left the park. Instead, they huddled under whatever shelter could be found and stayed put for most of the day. Below right: the lamenting sound of bagpipes could be heard from all corners of the park throughout the day.

Paralegal office opens in Wilberforce

by Carol Moffatt

A Paralegal office has opened in Wilberforce to provide legal and financial assistance to people throughout the county.

Ontario Paralegal has set up an office in Wilberforce, offering the public a broad range of legal and financial consultation services.

Paralegals are not lawyers but they provide advice, representation or both, on many simple, more routine legal matters.

Herman Poppe, a G.W. Martin retiree, is the President of Poppe & Associates Ltd. which owns and operates the office. He considers his services "a complement" to lawyers. Poppe says he can represent a client as an agent or provide a client with enough information to handle the job alone. "As soon as it becomes apparent that the problem or client request is in an area that we cannot help them or is beyond our mandate, we refer them to a lawyer," he said.

The first meeting with an Ontario Paralegal is free and there is no obligation to further utilize the services. Poppe says subsequent visits are reasonably priced. A paralegal can be a representative or simply assist in preparing claims and defenses in Small Claims Court involving such problems as overdue receivables, NSF cheques or other financial disputes.

A paralegal can also assist in reducing or eliminating traffic fines and point losses, but only where criminal violation is not involved. As well, paralegals can assist in a wide range of difficulties such as immigration, landlord and tenant disputes, rent review and Worker's Compensation claims.

"We can act on behalf of a person seeking a name change or an application for a criminal pardon," said Poppe. "In addition, we provide financial consultation services which could include credit and debit counselling, consolidation orders, consumer's proposals and other relief options for those people with financial problems," he said.

Uncontested divorce, simple incorporations and simple wills can also be handled by a paralegal, but only through and under the supervision of lawyers. Poppe said he is shying away from such cases though, because Ontario Paralegal is concerned with its image and such cases often end up becoming more involved than originally anticipated.

Some lawyers don't like paralegals encroaching on the legal system but others welcome them. Poppe said he has contacted lawyers in both Minden and Haliburton and the response has been "excellent". Poppe feels any negative attitude of lawyers toward paralegals comes from those lawyers who don't understand how paralegals work or who have had bad experiences with paralegals in the past.

"I want this to be associated with lawyers and I want it to be as clean as possible," said Poppe.

"My impression of Ontario Paralegal Ltd. is that they are a cautious but quality operation, have been around for some time, and are determined to protect and improve the reputation of their paralegals. Not only was my initial training very thorough, but I was, and am, able to call on professionals including lawyers, trustees and accountants, if additional assistance is needed," stated Poppe.

After initial training, paralegals are encouraged to continue attending seminars on a regular basis to keep on top of changes in the field and to ensure they provide quality legal and financial assistance. Poppe recently attended a one-day course at Osgoode Hall in Toronto and plans on attending more. He calls helping people with problems "very satisfying".

Ontario Paralegal is currently located on the Essonville Line, west of Wilberforce. Evening and weekend appointments are available. "We are determined to serve our local people, including those in Bancroft, Haliburton and Minden and I invite them to contact me at Poppe & Associates," declared Poppe.

permit can be issued.

The developers of the proposed bowling alley announced last week that the future of that project is in jeopardy.

In a letter to The Times Raylene Clarke, President of Tri-Corp. Development says "it is with great disappointment that, for yet another year, the Minden Bowling Lanes project has been delayed if not completely terminated."

Clarke says the developers have been faced with "numerous, unpredictable challenges," in trying to get the project underway.

She says architectural and engineered plans were prepared to meet Minden council's specifications but each time the developers went to the township building department they were "sent back to the drawing board."

Because the project depends on fall bowling leagues, the developers had to begin construction by June 24, in order to open in late September.

The developers are reviewing their options, says Clarke, and may wait until next year to begin construction. They may relocate the project to another area or drop the idea completely.

But Tom Hubercheck, Minden's Chief Building Official, says the township couldn't issue a building permit for the bowling alley because the original requirements haven't been met.

Hubercheck says the developers were provided with a list of requirements that is standard for commercial projects and that list has not changed.

Included in the requirements not fulfilled by the developers is a submitted site plan, and approval from municipal roads, sewer, and fire departments.

Although council and the developers have entered into a site plan agreement, Hubercheck says a copy of the site plan has to be submitted so it can be registered along with the agreement.

The township is not against the project, says Hubercheck. "I would still like to see it go."

Developer disappointed

Editor:

As you have probably noticed, no excavations have taken place at the site of the new bowling lanes. It is with great disappointment that, for yet another year, the Minden Bowling Lanes project has been delayed if not completely terminated.

Throughout the past year we have been faced with numerous, unpredictable challenges, in an effort to get this project underway. In the spring, we signed an agreement with the town council and got ready to start. Architectural and engineered plans were prepared, at a substantial cost in time and money, as to the specifications of AHM council's requests. Since then, given a list of requirements to meet, each time we have gone to the building office, we have been sent back to the drawing board. The list of requirements changes; plans agreed upon, have been changed and revised. Finally, June 22, understanding all requirements were met and paperwork in order, we went to apply for our building permit. Again, we found more problems arisen.

Monday, June 24 was our start-up deadline. Once past this date, a late September opening was not feasible. Leagues would be needed to keep the project economically viable and these start in early fall.

Our financing was coming from local business people, at a substantially higher cost than a year ago. These people were willing to invest in Minden, feeling it a viable project, employing local people and business for local building outlets. We thank our financial supports and assure them of their anonymity.

The project would have brought over half-a-million dollars new assessment for the townships, employed full time and part-time staff. But more than this, we wanted a clean, pleasant, exciting, year-round centre of family entertainment that Minden could be proud of.

Currently, we are reviewing our options. We have had an offer from another local area to relocate our project with less interference from a "silent opposition" and a co-operative building spirit. We may wait another year in Minden and hope that the political climate and attitudes towards building have changed, or we may completely drop this project.

We thank the hundreds of people for their moral support for our project. We are truly disappointed and sorry.

Raylene A. Clarke,
Pres. Tri-Corp. Dev't.

Dennis Drainville seeking nomination to run for NDP

by Carol Moffatt

Victoria-Haliburton Anglican clergyman Dennis Drainville is seeking the N.D.P. nomination in this fall's election.

As a resident of Victoria-Haliburton he served as Anglican minister to the parish of Fenelon Falls and Coboconk until this past spring. He is currently the Regional Dean of Victoria-Haliburton and writes about social and political issues.

Drainville has been involved in both trying to draw attention to local issues as well as helping to focus on larger issues beyond the immediate area.

In Fenelon Falls he co-ordinated a seminar series on Drug and Alcohol abuse for the Association of Churches, and he was instrumental in highlighting environmental concerns and native rights issues by bringing the Temagami Dispute to the attention of local residents. Last December he was arrested while helping native people blockade the Red Squirrel Road at Temagami.

Drainville has worked extensively in the area of economic and social justice across Canada. In 1985 he wrote a revealing report entitled Poverty in Canada which received national attention and acclaim. He was the initiator and Chairperson of the First National Conference on Hunger in 1987. His work has taken him across Canada and has put him in newspapers and on national television.

Drainville is seeking the nomination because he has a vision of co-operative political involvement. He says this vision affirms some of the fundamental traits of the local community, such as independence of spirit, a deep reverence for communal history, and a strong commitment to the quality of life.

Drainville says he is also motivated by a desire to respond to the present cynicism and negativity that seems to pervade present political discussions.

He says he is committed to ensuring the needs and aspirations of all people in the riding are heard as regards the issues that impact directly upon them.

These issue include the Haliburton Hospital Expansion, economic problems of local farmers, overcrowding in the schools and the continued lack of consultation in provincial government decisions that affect the local community.

Ops deputy-reeve joins race to replace Eakins for Liberals

by Carol Moffatt

Ops Township Deputy Reeve Pat O'Reilly is seeking the Victoria-Haliburton Liberal Party's nomination this fall.

O'Reilly, who also serves on Victoria County Council, is the Chairman of the county's tourism committee and Director of the Central Ontario Tourism Association. He sits on the Kawartha Conservation Authority, is a member of the Lindsay-Ops Fire Committee and a member of the Ops Parks and Recreation Committee.

O'Reilly is a lifelong resident of Ops Township and his father, Joe, was also a Township Councillor in the late 70s and early 80s. He has been extensively involved in sports such as golf, cross-country and downhill skiing, hockey and baseball in Haliburton County for a number of years.

O'Reilly has travelled throughout Victoria and Haliburton counties for a number of years through his involvement in sports, and as a real estate agent and developer. He is also a recent graduate of the South Western School of Auctioneering.

O'Reilly has been interested in politics for many years and says he would like to make a contribution to public office his riding.

"Because I am currently sitting on County Council and acting Chairman of Tourism, I think I have a good pulse and I realize the impact of county issues such as waste management, county restructuring and planning," said O'Reilly.

"If I am elected I would like to become a grass-roots politician and be a strong voice at Queen's Park. People who know me know that I am easily accesible and that I want to treat everyone honestly and fairly," he said. "John Eakins has served the riding well and I hope to carry on the precedents he has set," he added.

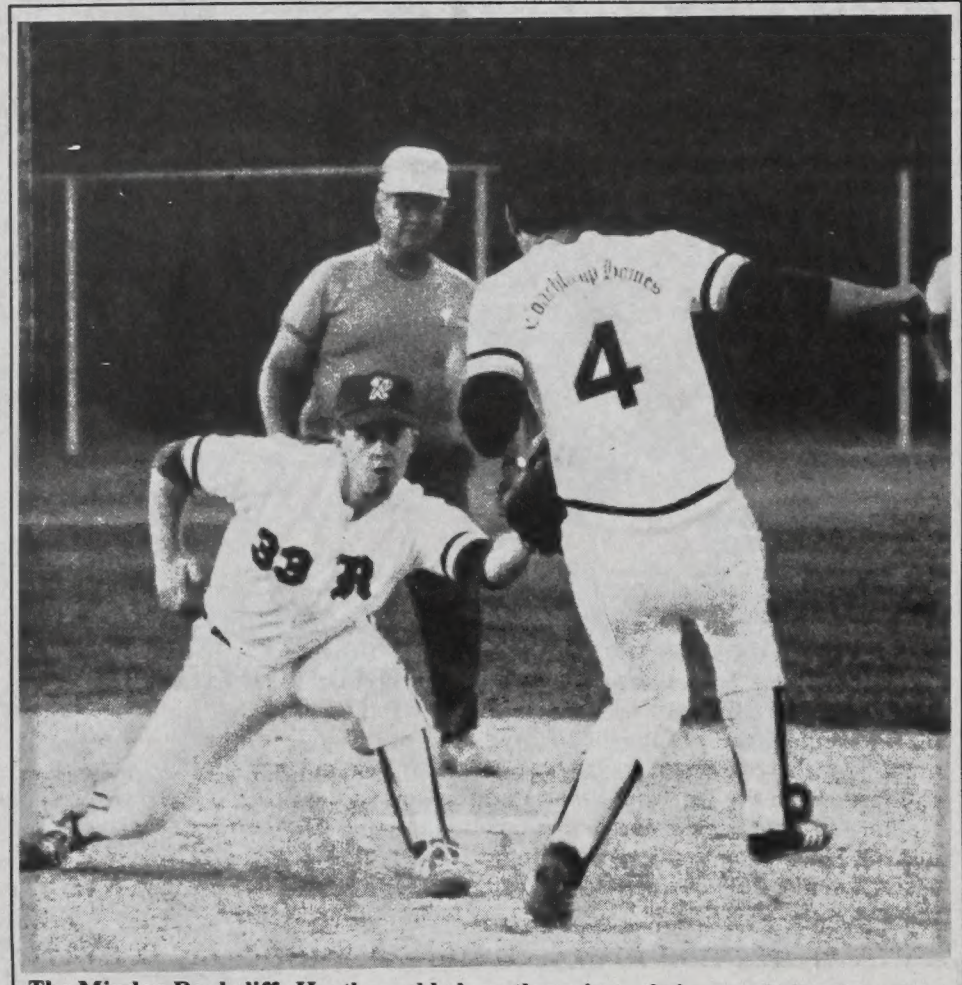
The California Cuties are coming to Minden to show their own fashion of baseball talent on July 13



The Minden Rockcliffe Hustlers added another win to their record Thusday when they took on the Bobcaygeon Stingers in Minden. The Hustlers ran up a 4-0 lead with runs in the first and third innings and held on with a strong performance from pitcher Brian Shaw, who went the distance.

Cuties on the way!

Local baseball fans are in for a special treat on July 13 when the Minden Juniors square off against the California Cuties in a game to raise money for Minden minor baseball.

The California Cuties are the original four-man softball team, playing in women's clothing. They are known for thier tremendous baseball abilities, cute clothing and entertaining antics.

Kevin Smith, who coaches the local juniors, says this should be a great show for the spectators at the new Minden diamond. He says he has a sharp junior team that is eager to out-slug the Cuties.

Local equestrian club is going strong as anniversary nears

by D. Longmuir

Last fall a small group of horse enthusiasts formed a club to enhance their equestrian skills.

"The Haliburton County Equestrains have really blossomed since our first clinic," said President Tina Cox of Minden. "We have attracted a vast majority of equestrians with different levels of skills who are working together to help each other learn."

As the main objective of the club is education, members attend meetings and training clinics put on by such pros as Brian Vanderkleyn, a farrier from Fenelon Falls, and Cambray vet services. In addition to clinics, the club distributes a newsletter which informs members of upcoming events and offers advice on equire health care, training tips, and has a classified section.

Secretary/Treasurer Diane Longmuir of Kinmount offer, "In the new year it was evident the clubs was expanding enough to form a Board of Directors to channel all the energy and information offered by members in an organized manner."

Egg & Spoon riders: Kacey Cork on Thunder, Colleen Longhurst on Merlin, Tina Cox on Govner and Diane Longmuir on Rockwoods' Boy.

"We realize that along with education goes safety and as such have developed policies to maintain high levels of both of these and have fun at the same time. We encourage a family atmosphere as we are a family-oriented organization. We have members geographically from West Guilford to Toronto, and we also have members who do not own horses says Vice-President Joan Bunn of Minden.

The club is a non-profit organization run by volunteers and such has a fund-raising team of Linda Kapeleris, Carrie Warder and Gail Palmer, all of Minden. Linda says, "There is very high interest in horses in this area and Minden has supported us to expand our efforts. We are grateful to our sponsors and hope the relationship will continue."

The next event the club will be putting on is a gymkhana (fun & games on horseback) on July 8 at the Minden Fairgrounds from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Spectators are welcome and lunch is available. If you would like more information about this club, contact Tina Cox at 286-1165 or Joan Bunn at 286-2823.

Game promises excitement

Madame Hilda has other ideas. His comely foursome is preparing the dazzle the juniors with skill, finesse, intimidation and a good amount of clowning around.

In the line-up for the cuties are Mr. Leaping Lena at first base; Mr. Hedda Hooker, the slick fielding shortstop; Mr. Sizzling Sally, the ace pitcher and hitter; and Mr. Hefty Helen, the hard-hitting catcher.

Smith says the Cuties won't have an easy go of it in the July 13 game. He says pitchers Scott Nesbitt, Craig Smith and Jamie Hancock have been practicing hard and are "ready to burn the ball so fast over the plate it spin the Cutie's kilts."

The game begins at the new Minden diamond at 8 p.m. Admission will be $4 for adults and $2 for children. All proceeds will be turned over the the Minden Baseball Association to promote minor ball in the area.

Airport hosting fly-in brunch

Stanhope Airport is holding a fly-in brunch on Sunday, July 8 from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. All pilots, residents, passersby and interested parties are welcome to join in. The menu is a surprise but airport manager Mike Carey guarantees it will be tasty. The cooking will be done by airport committee members, their families and whoever else volunteers.

Carey and the Airport Committee are hosting the fly-in to celebrate the recent developments at the airport and to help promote them. The developments include the paving of the runways, the renovation of the office and the hiring of Carey as a full-time manager.

The rain date is the following Sunday should rainy skies prevail. Carey is hoping to host a major celebration next year in conjuction with the opening of Stanhope's new municipal offices.

Down in the dirt

In ladies softball action this week, General Lee played host to the Rockcliffe team. Although both teams gave it their all, the Rockcliffe team won by a score of 7-2. After holding the Rockcliffe to one run and scoring two themselves, General Lee let five runs come to the plate in the top of the fifth inning which finished the scoring for the evening. Terry Dillon had a good night at the plate, hitting an in-the-park homer which scored three runs. On Thursday, June 21, Rockcliffe played in Guilford. With the Rockcliffe scoring three runs in the first inning it was up to Guilford to come back from a deficit early in the game. They met the challenge and tied the game up one run at a time. In the bottom of the seventh, Guilford scored again, winning the game 4-3.

Again, many thanks to everyone who helped with the testing and especially to Marilyn Ranson for organizing the Powerskating portion of the school.

Current plans for fall include Powerskating courses to be offered both in Haliburton and Minden before the regualar hockey season starts and Figure Skating for a five-week session at the Haliburton Arena. If any adults are interested in a 'learn to skate' program, please contact Toni Carr by August 1st. Phone 286-2777.

Rainfall report

Very little rain has fallen in the past 10 days or so. This had caused a decline of the Haliburton area lakes to 94.6 per cent by Monday, June 18. The average level for the decade of the 1970's was about 91.5 per cent for that date.

Flows of the Gull, Burnt and other tributaries are now near their minimums, since the extra water is still not needed along the Canal System. A small surplus remains on the Kawarthas as this week ends, but it has been steadily diminishing.

Otonabee River flow is running a little higher than summer minimum at about 30 cubic meters per second. Normal June flow is 51 cubic meters per second, while the summer minimum is about 17.

Grant

John Eakins, MPP for Victoria-Haliburton has announced a $15,000 grant from the Ministry of the Environment for the Township of Dysart Et Al.

The funds from the Ministry's Waste Management Improvement program assist municipalities by improving local landfill sites which includes studies, upgrading, remedial, measures and site closure.

Seniors Games medals awarded

by Carol Moffatt

The Haliburton Legion was packed again Tuesday night as the medal recipients of the Haliburton-Muskoka District 11 Seniors Games were awarded their hardware.

The games versus the Muskoka teams began on June 18 and more than 500 seniors from both areas participated. Haliburton alone sent about 260 into competition.

Winners of these games are eligible to compete in the Ontario Seniors Games Actifest '90 in London, Ontario, this fall.

After the bronze, silver and gold medals were awarded, the gold-medal winners were ushered out of the room. Moments later, wearing tartan vests and caps, the proud and smiling group were piped back into the room courtesy of Earl Cooper and his bagpipes.

The crowd applauded the winners loudly as they marched about the room, the Haliburton-Muskoka District 11 flag carried proudly at the front of the line. When the group assembled on stage and the applause died down, Harry Hodgson, Chairman of both the Haliburton Seniors Games and the Haliburton-Muskoka District 11 Games congratulated all the winners and the participants.

Hodgson also thanked all the volunteers and helpers for their support in getting the games organized and keeping them well run.

For the first time, a trophy was awarded to the team which had accumulated the most total points and Haliburton took the new honour. Hodgson accepted the trophy on behalf of the Haliburton team, wiping away a few proud tears in the process. "I don't know what to say. Thank you so much is all I can think of," he said.

He lightly challenged Haliburtonians to keep on top of their games, calling them lucky to have won and cautioning them for next year. He also urged everyone in attendance to jump into the participation and support for those going to Actifest in London.

The Haliburton gold medal winners of the Haliburton-Muskoka District 11 Seniors Games are as follows:
Contract Bridge - Vange and Jack Croucher
Euchre - Aileen Billings and Helen McCracken

Gold medal winners of the Haliburton-Muskoka District 11 Seniors Games stand proud in their tartan. Haliburton won the competition in overall points. Gold, silver and bronze medals were presented last week in ceremonies complete with bagpipes. Gold medal winners are eligible to go on to Actifest '90 in London, Ontario later this year.

An invitation to comment on an environmental assessment for the proposed Ontario Hydro program in respect of activities associated with meeting future electricity requirements in Ontario

The Environmental Assessment Act
Subsection 7(1) Notice of Completion of Review

An Environmental Assessment has been submitted by Ontario Hydro for an undertaking consisting of a Program in respect of activities associated with meeting future electricity requirements in Ontario. Ontario Hydro has published a Demand/Supply Plan Report setting out proposals to ensure that a continuing reliable electricity supply is provided in Ontario. Each alternative Demand/Supply Plan includes: management of the demand for electricity; non-utility generation; rehabilitation and retirement of generating stations; redevelopment, extensions and new developments at eleven hydraulic generation sites; the purchase of electrical power and energy from Manitoba; and, new fossil and nuclear generation.

The approval being requested is set out in Chapter 19 of the Demand/Supply Plan Report, and pertains to: a) the requirement and rationale for transmission in Ontario to incorporate purchases from Manitoba; and, b) the requirement and rationale for specified generation and transimission facilities, including nuclear, fossil and hydraulic generation.

Before the Environmental Assessment Board convenes a hearing on this proposal, you have the right to submit comments on the proposed undertaking, the environmental assessment, and the government review which has now been completed.

How do you get the information you need?

You may inspect the documents during normal business hours at the following ministry offices:
Environmental Assessment Branch
5th Fl., 250 Davisville Ave.
Toronto, Ontario
M4S 1H2 (416) 440-3450

Ministry of the Environment regional offices in Hamilton, Toronto, London, Sudbury, Thunder Bay and Kingston. (Check the blue pages of your telephone directory for addresses.)

Please submit your written comments so they are received no later than August 7,1990.

Send them to:
Ontario Hydro Demand/ Supply Plan
Jim Bradley, Minister
Ministry of the Environment
5th Fl., 135 St. Clair Ave. W.
Toronto, Ontario
M4V 1P5

All submissions received by the minister will be forwarded to the Environmental Assessment Board for their consideration at the hearing mentioned below. Comments on the undertaking, the environmental assessment, and the review may also be submitted directly to the Environmental Assessment Board at the hearing.

Public Hearing to be held

The Environmental Assessment Board will be holding a hearing under the Environmental Assessment Act. The Environmental Assessment Board will issue a notice giving the date, time and location of the hearing. Anyone who wishes to make submissions to the Environmental Assessment Board should note the Board's requirements when the Board issues its notice. Steering Committee addresses issues

by Carol Moffatt

The Haliburton County Directional Plan Steering Committee met on Wednesday to discuss activity updates. Several issues were discussed, including focus groups, the recent open houses, data collection and a service delivery inventory.

Recent focus groups have discussed the needs and requirements of many sectors of the community with regard to health services, social services and housing. Physicians, health service providers, residents, families of long term care patients (such as Extendicare or Hyland Crest residents), politicians, and even hospitals outside the county were polled.

Those chosen to participate in the study were asked to fill out questionniares in which they were to outline their needs, desires, complaints and praises of services in Haliburton County. The results will help the committee focus on specific areas in Haliburton needing attention, adjustment or outright change.

According to Steering Committee Chairman Maureen Dikun and the District Health Council's Assistant Executive Director Dawn Berry Merriam, the focus groups have gone well. Both agreed the information they were looking for is forthcoming, and will be available when the data is put together.

The recent Open Houses in Wilberforce, Minden and Haliburton have gone well, said Berry Merriam. While only a handful of people turned out for the Wilberforce open house, 28 people attended the Minden display and that, said Berry-Merriam, was a good number. The important thing is people realizing their input is wanted by the committee,

Trent Severn waterway report

On Monday, June 11, the reservoir storage in the Haliburton lakes averaged 97.2 per cent of maximum. The ten-year average for that date is about 93 per cent. Only small changes have been required recenlty on the Trent-Severn dams in Haliburton area.

Throughout the Kawarthas, a small surplus remains to help delay the start of drawing reserve water. In many years, some reserve water has to be drawn by June 15, but so far this spring this has not been required.

HALIBURTON'S MOST PROGRESSIVE DEALERSHIP

Ten strategies proposed for long-term care assessment and service co-ordination and support services. This agency will also be able to refer people to any other service agency in the community or neighboring communities.

Strategy Two: Integrate and Consolidate in-home services. This strategy will integrate Home Care, Integrated Homemaker Programs, Outreach Attendant Care, Nurses services and other home support services into one consolidated, unified care and support services network.

Strategy Three: Enhance community support services. Community support services are a fundamental part of long-term care and its support system. Reform will address the current gaps in services, increase resources and underserviced areas and provide support for informal caregivers and volunteers.

Strategy Four: Establish an equitable and flexible funding approach for community services. There are inconsistencies in funding because of differing policies and funding sources. Funding of community-based services will ensure flexibility of resource direction to priority services, based on local needs.

Strategy Five: Determine the relationship with specialized services. Specialized needs are currently addressed by only a small portion of services and even then only complex, unique problems are dealt with sufficiently. Some conditions need special expertise that is not easily found in the geriatric service industry. Reform will act partially as a bridge, and will educate caregivers, consumers and service providers. However, this strategy is preliminary and is currently being reviewed for further dicussion.

Strategy Six: Enhance support for informal caregivers. Family, friends, volunteers and neighbours currently make up 90 per cent of the assistance received by individuals with functional dependencies. The Service Access Organization (SAO) will help informal caregivers obtain information. It will make referrals and help relieve the strain of constant caring through a system of respite care. Respite care offers relief services that enable caregivers time off for themselves. Support groups (also called self-help groups) will be better organized in order for caregivers to share problems and experiences.

Strategy Seven: Reform policies for long-term care facilities. Nursing homes, homes for the aged and chronic care facilities are an integral part of the long-term care and support systems network. Reform will organize the entire system better in order to introduce funding policies, introduce a classification system that measures care requirements, and increase the accountability standards for nursing homes and homes for the aged. It will also develop and update standards and will review the role and responsibilities of chronic care facilities.

Strategy Eight: Introduce a balanced co-payment policy. Differing legislation and policies within ministries has resulted in a variety of direct charges to consumers. Review of these has indicated inconsistencies among services and programs. Reform will establish a charging policy compatible with service objectives and which contributes to the cost of providing services. People will pay all, part or none of their service costs depending on income and assets (for facility care) or depending on income alone (personal care).

Strategies nine and ten are management issues which were outlined by John Poch, Area Manager for Haliburton-Victoria County Ministry of Community and Social Services.

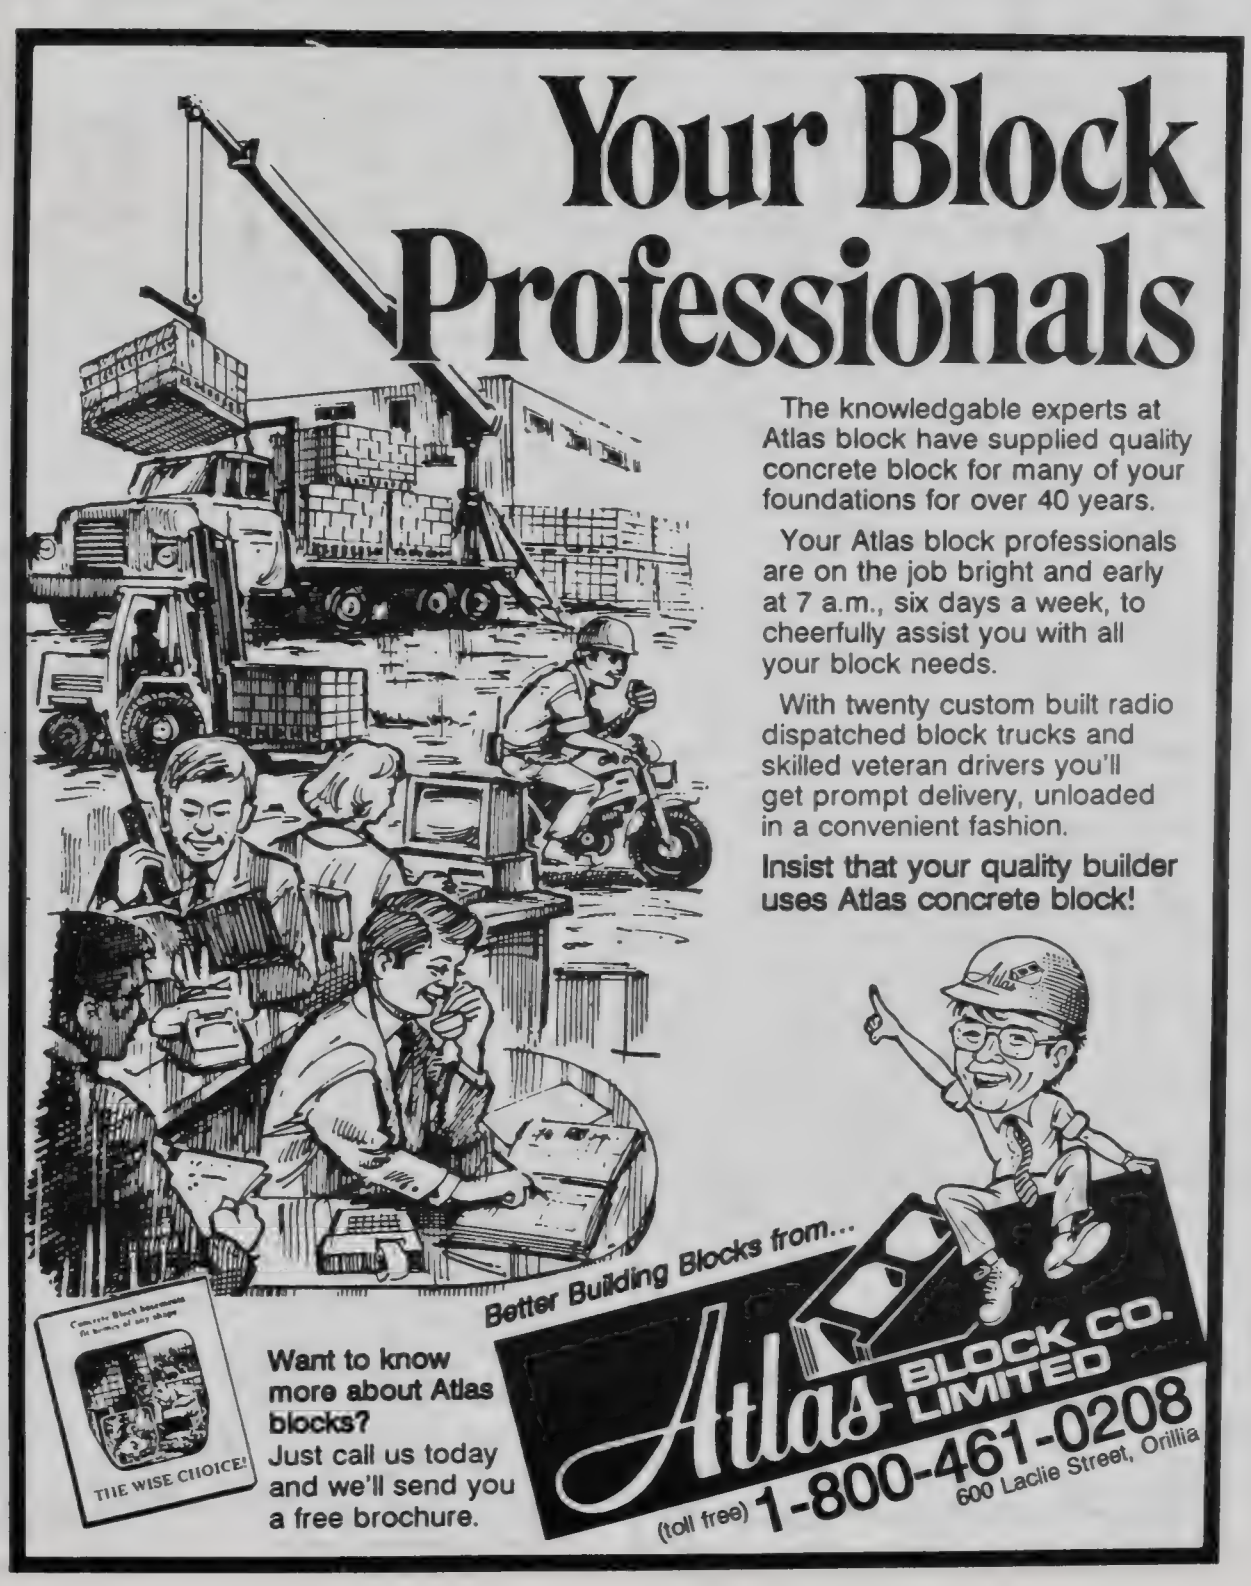
Strategy Nine: Establish an integrated and decentralized management structure. Currently, the Ministry of Health and the Ministry of Community and Social Services have their own policies and procedures and this results in confusion. The new management structure will consist of two branches that will manage the operational aspects of long-term care. One will be responsible for residential services and the other for in-home services.

Fourteen local offices will be established from which the management staff, local organizations and the district health councils will work together to plan and implement reform. These local offices will be responsible for program co-ordination, financial management and service monitoring. Applications for the new local management position have already been taken in Haliburton and all the managers are expected to be selected and implemented by September.

Strategy Ten: Ensure community involvement in planning services. In order for the entire reform process to address the needs of the public, input from the public is paramount. Local planning groups, district health councils, municipalities, service providers and consumers have all been involved in finding out what is good, bad and in need of change in the long-term care service industry but more input is needed and wanted.

Poch called this aspect of reform the part that brings the people together, what is needed to drive the entire reform program. Poch and Berry Merriam both stressed how important input from anyone and everyone is to the reform program; without knowing what to change, leave, improve or create, long-term care cannot be changed to reflect what society wants.

Questionnaires are available and written comments are encouraged. Enquiries can be addressed to: Community Health and Support Services Division, 5th Floor Hepburn Block, Queen's Park, Toronto, Ontario, M7A 1E9, Attention: Patrick Laverty, Director, Policy: Long Term Care.



Frogs are mysteriously disappearing at an alarming rate

Reflections

by David Suzuki

On the long weekend in May, I was able to take my family to see our favorite place for the first outing of the year.

Watching the children performing the complex rituals of play brings back memories of one's own childhood and the things that seemed important then.

Most of all, I remember the seasons.

The changing seasons were punctuated by firsts—the first frost, the first robin, the first cherries, the first snowfall.

Today as an urban dweller who shuttles between temperature controlled enclosures and dines of fresh fruits and vegetables year round. I'm not as conscious of these cylical regularities as I once was.

We have become disconnected from the rhythms that have regulated the behavior of our species for 99.9 per cent of our existence.

The most exciting season for me as a child was spring when the days lengthen perceptibly, birds pass through on their way north and shrubs and trees erupt in green and blossom.

But the most reliable harbinger of spring was always frogs.

You could hear them announce the season and, at ponds and swamps, their amorous calls become deafening.

I would gather clumps of eggs and take them home in bottles to watch their incredible transformation into tadpoles. If cared for very well, a few pollywogs would reach full froghood, sprouting legs and absorbing their tails. Those frogs provided some of my most profound understandings of the complexity of life.

Today, my children carry on that curiosity and interest but they have to search a lot further than I did to find a habitat for frogs.

Swamps have pushed frogs out.

And perhaps too many young David Suzukis took too many eggs with the cumulative effect of decimating the creatures we so loved.

Today, the sight of a frog sends my children into rapture as they look and appreciate but don't capture to take home.

So it was a shock to learn of a report from a scientific meeting in Canterbury, England last September.

It was a herpetology conference where experts on reptiles and amphibians from 63 countries met to discuss their areas of specialty. By chance, two participants from different parts of the world, discovered that whole populations of amphibians, especially frogs, in both regions seemed to be disappearing.

In the months that followed, the initial reports appeared to hold up.

In some areas, frogs are doing very well, but in others, populations have disappeared or their numbers are plummeting catastrophically.

Consequently, a panel of the U.S. National Research Council convened a meeting of 22 experts in Irvine, California last February.

David Wake, the panel chairman was quoted as saying that a number of species of toads, frogs and salamanders are "crashing throughout North, Central and South America, Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia. . . They are disappearing from nature preserves, in the most pristine sites of Costa Rica, Brazil, Yosemite, Sequoia and Isle Royale National parks. Meadows where frogs were as thick as flies are now silent." (NY Times, Feb. 20).

But what is the cause? Are frogs, because they have life cycles that depend on water, air and soil, especially sensitive to environmental pollution? Is there some common factor or agent affecting populations around the world or are amphibians like many other animals and plants being exterminated by a number of different locally specific conditions?

Scientists have suggested a number of culprits such as acid rain, windborne pesticides or increased penetration of ultraviolet radiation through the thinning ozone layer.

But the simple fact is, we don't know and it may be years, if ever, before we do.

Just as troubling as the observation of frog disappearance is the fact that its discovery was the chance result of two scientists chatting at a conference.

How many other groups of species are disappearing that we don't know about? Not long ago, coalminers took canaries into the pits with them as monitors of the quality of the air they shared.

As biological beings, we should look on the extinction or disappearance of other species as cause for concern about the health of the entire biosphere which we are all a part.

Each species becomes a kind of canary informing us about the state of the world.

It is most disturbing to realize that we know so little about the biological world that we may not even be able to recognize the signs.

At most, biologists have identified five per cent of all the species estimated to inhabit the world.

But that only means that dead specimens have been given scientific names; it does not mean we know anything about their life cycles, reproduction, food needs, or interaction with other species.

Given this vast ignorance, it is impossible to adequately monitor species that might be sensitive canaries of the environment.

At the cottage, I waited anxiously to share what the children had discovered on their forays into the bush.

No frogs were spotted but they were always pretty hard to find in the area.

Then my daughters returned triumphantly to announce a momentous find—three orange bellied salamanders, plump and healthy.

As we revelled in their discovery, the girls didn't know what was going through my head as I remembered when Rachel Carson asked us to imagine a world without songs of birds.

For me, the thought of my children growing up in a world devoid of the singing of frogs is just as heartbreaking.

An update of the reservoir lake situation

J.G. Strickland, Executive Director of the Federation of Ontario Cottagers' Association, made the following presentation to the Horseshoe Lake Property Owners Association on June 23:

I would like to bring you up-to-date on the Trent-Severn reservoir lakes area and and waterway system situation. The problems in this area have been addressed for quite some time now by the Haliburton Highlands Water Management Advisory Committee (HHWMAC) in an attempt to get a resolution.

In September 1984 a very comprehensive situation appraisal was published and circulated to a wide range of federal, provincial and municipal politicians and civil servants accompanied by an executive summary. We can provide a copy of the full report if desired. The executive summary is continuously being re-submitted to newly elected politicians and others.

Each year an annual operations review is compiled and gets similar wide circulation. A copy of the 1989 operations review is also available.

The situation has been getting continuous wide publicity as evidenced by the open house held in Haliburton in the fall of 1987 attended by over 300 people with wide media coverage and the continuous front page coverage in the local media.

The situation was also the main local issue in the 1988 municipal and federal elections.

On this latter item, the federal minister of the day, the Honourable T. McMillan, visited the area, met with HHWMAC Committee members, acknowledged the problem and promised action. Unfortunately he was defeated.

From the point of view of technical expertise, reviews and assessments, the complete operation was post audited by Acres International in 1987-88 (as recommended by HHWMAC). The Executive Summary was circulated to all area association presidents and contacts in July '88. The full report is available from Parks Canada Peterborough.

The post audit promised better control through improved technology ie: Parks Canada are doing the best they can with what they've got unfortunately that's not good enough.

The truth of the matter is that there is not enough water in the system to serve two masters. The residents, lodges, marinas and small businesses of the reservoir lakes area and the Trent Canal.

If there was enough water or surplus water (like right now) there is no-where to store it.

Having exhausted the civil servant and technical route, in the fall of 1988, HHWMAC members (H. Davis and B. Robinson) met with the Honourable J. Eakins to review the situation and request that he arrange a meeting with the Honourable V. Kerrio (MNR) to enlist his support.

This meeting was held in Lindsay on February 2, 1989 and was attended by Messrs. Kerrio, Eakins, The County Warden, H. Davis, The HHWMAC Chairman, myself and Bev Robinson of FOCA, the area MNR District Manager and J. Barker, District Manager MNR Minden District.

Bev Robinson presented the background and current situation and the need for a conservation authority to manage the watershed and I covered the need for Provincial Government involvement and support, the need to update the 1905 order-in-council by a current agreement, the need for a senior person or persons to work with, in Queen's Park, the need to undertake a study project for a long range solution similar to the current great lakes study and the new Provincial Water Control Act which could act as a lever.

Mr. Kerrio was provided with two sets of material including: — 1984 Executive Summary; — 1987 & 1988 Operations Review; — A draft of a current Federal/Provincial Operations Agreement (Drafted by HHWMAC).

Mr. Kerrio was very receptive and Supportive and advised he would write to the new federal minister immediately, the Honourable L. Bouchard.

The Federal M.P. W. Scott also wrote the Federal Minister in February '89 requesting an increased reservoir capacity feasibility study.

The Federal Minister replied in May 89 that he had suggested that John Lewis Superintendent of Parks Canada, Peterborough discuss the matter with provincial officials. It's to be noted that all the previous named federal and provincial minister are now out of office.

As requested by HHWMAC last year, FOCA has canvassed a number of lake associations whose lakes are not filled to 100 percent in the spring, for approval to fill them up. This would provide a small measure of additional water (3600 acre feet). They were all quite unanimous not to raise the levels due to flooding and other problems.

The issue is debated regularly at Municipal and County Councils. The local media is regularly involved as evidenced by their continuous news stories and editorials.

Now where do we go from here?

This is no quick fix or short-to medium-term solution, the only apparent solution (increased reservoir capacity) will require feasibility studies, a joint Federal/Provincial/Municipal agreement and task force and money, literally millions of dollars. This will also necessitate relocation of roads, railway tracks, towns, residences etc. epending on the location of the new reservoir areas.

As indicated by Mr. Kerrio, the use of undeveloped crown land is an option.

There has already been a reservoir study done by Lockwoods in 1972. We know where some increased capacity capability exists. We also believe there is more elsewhere but it has to be research.

We believe the establishment of a conservation authority or a least an add on to

Water levels committee supports the formation of conservation authority an adjacent conservation authority would be a big plus, to work with Parks Canada, on a permanent basis, to manage the watershed.

Under the Conservation Authorities Act, and among other things, the authority has power:

a) To study and investigate the watershed and to determine a program whereby the Natural Resources of the watershed may be conserved, restored, developed and managed.

b) To erect works and structures and create reservoirs by the construction of dams or otherwise.

c) To control the flow of surface waters in order to prevent floods or pollution or to reduce adverse affects.

d) To collaborate and enter into agreements with ministries and agencies of Government, Municipal Councils and local boards and other organizations.

e) To cause research to be done, "etc".

These are exactly the things that need to be done in the T-S-W reservoir lakes area.

Meanwhile a new group has been formed consisting of the lake associations (thirty-six) in the T.S.W. watershed, called the Trent Severn Reservoir Lakes Council.

This group will complement HHWMAC and is a grass roots group oriented to lobbying local, provincial and federal levels of government to achieve a solution to the water levels problem. It will maintain close liaison with FOCA and is supported and endorsed by FOCA. It will also have three members on HHWMAC representing the three areas that make up the total T.S.W. watershed (Gull, Burnt & Southern).

Besides lobbying, it could conduct surveys, act as a communication medium and initiate write-in campaigns and hold workshops. It will provide input to HHWMAC and FOCA.

In addition, HHWMAC is restructuring and updating its terms of reference.

Plans are underway to meet with the new Provincial and Federal Ministers and their senior officials.

Terms of reference for a study to arrive at a long term solution to the problems of the area are being drafted.

A public information session on water management and water levels is planned for September 28 at the Haliburton Legion. Presentations will be made by Parks Canada and the Ministry of Natural Resources and Conservation authorities — plan to attend.

In the meantime you can write your own letters to the federal MP Mr. W. Scott, Mr. J. Eakins, M.P.P., the Honourable Lyn McLeod Provincial Minister of MNR and the new Federal Minister of the Environment expressing your concerns and requesting Federal/Provincial action. Send a copy of FOCA, the TSRLC, and G. McKnight, of Haliburton County, the Secretary of HHWMAC.

Lobby your Municipal and County Council regarding feasibility studies on a conservation authority and demand action on the water levels problem ie: turn up the heat.

In summary, the situation has been studied to death by lay people and technical experts. The latest and greatest in all aspects of technology (data capture, telemetering devices, computer, software, dam improvements etc.) either have been or are being installed. The subject must now be resolved at the Federal/Provincial ministerial level.

There only remains the need for the political will to do something.

We'll keep you posted and trust you will find this helpful.

Accurate, sensitive portrayal

Editor:

We wish to express our thanks to Susan Wilson and The Times for the article "All in the Family" - Part 1.

Susan's accurate and sensitive portrayal of "Donna's" life as an abused woman reminds us of our own responsibilities as a community to end violence towards women and children.

Donna's testimony will hopefully encourage other abused women to seek help, knowing they are not alone.

Senior League

by Winnifred Barnum

Wednesday evening Pastor Murray held a service in the main lounge. The Residents thank you and your helpers very much.

Thursday was Tea Party again and The Hyland Crest Auxilliary ladies provided the lunch which everyone enjoyed and we certainly thank the ladies, Alberta Maitland, Aileen Blears, Muriel Harrington, Angela O'Neill and Jean Robson.

Thursday evening we had Bingo with Tom McAllister calling. There were seven residents present and everyone won something.

Congratulations to Grace Coburn on having her birthday on June 23, 1990. Happy birthday all year!

Friday was 'Happy Hour' so we combined it with a presentation to Linda Fry-Adjuvant, who terminated her work her June 22, 1990.

Bill Payne, Eldon Deacon, Don Burch, George Smith, Charlie Hadley and Doris played for the residents until 2:30 p.m. when the staff from Dietary, Housekeeping, Laundry, Nursing and Office Staff came. The musicians retired to the tables until the presentations were over. Peter Fearrey gave the presentation speech for the staff of Hyland Crest with their gift of a basket containing a bottle and a beautiful pair of earrings. The residents gave her a gold bracelet. Bill Moore dedicated the Happy Hour to Linda as she was one of the people who started it and Winnie Barnum gave her a rabbit she had made for her. The County gave her a County pin, medal and a pen and pencil set, presented by Gary McKnight, County Administrator. This was followed by refreshments of a very delicious cake and fruit punch. Then the band took over again. It was a sad and happy afternoon. Thanks to the band, the volunteers and all who helped.

We wish Linda loads and loads of happiness. After the presentations Lillian Harrison and Alice Todd sang and acted out a comic act to the song 'There's a Hole in My Bucket'. It was appreciated by everyone and was well done.

Annie Shultz was to her son's for dinner Sunday.

Nancy Carefoot has returned from the Minden Hospital.

Thursday after the tea party Maggie and Jiggs got outside. Someone went out to get them but they could only find one, Jiggs. Maggie was gone for two days but the next morning she was sitting at the back door waiting to get in. Many are very happy to have her home.

Sunday evening Reverend John Burgess had Chapel service with Alice Jones playing the organ. Taking each verse and working forward you get a new meaning of what you read. Thank you Reverend Burgess and Alice.

My sister May, Roy and Jackie took me to Hilda LaRue's and we all went out for dinner.

Lillian Harrison is with us for a month.

Tuesday morning Chapel service was taken by Reverend Dawn Gilby. The residents thank her very much.

Monday night we had movies. One was 'Magic of Disneyland' and the other was 'Sailing the Netherlands'. One reel seemed to be defective, we could not see it. Our usual volunteers were unable to come so Bill Prentice ran the projector for us and we thank him immensely. I believe he was in to see his mother that evening.

Tuesday afternoon we had Jack and Ruth Foster in the main lounge for a sing song. Jack played his guitar and mouth organ and sang one old song after another. Ruth sang twice with a mike attached to a radio tape recorder to accompany her. They are lovely singers and the residents thank them for an enjoyable afternoon.

Doris read to those who can't read themselves for half an hour and Dianna Morris came at 6:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. to read from the same book. Thank you to both of them. We really look forward to this reading.

Ada Lewis was not so well. She has gone to hospital again.

Wednesday afternoon the Auxilliary held their Strawberry Tea and Bazaar in the auditorium. There was a good crowd out. The ladies were very happy with the tea results. The lucky ticket on the Cornelius Theodore Bear was drawn today and the lucky number drawn was ten, with Ellen Holden, a volunteer here at Hyland Crest, having the winning number. The proceeds of this draw go to the Bus Fund. I do not know how much was made but as soon as I do I will enter it in this column. Evelyn Coleman, mother of the lady who made the bear drew the lucky ticket.

Open houses facilitate networking said Berry Merriam.

She also called the informal networking that occurred "a real plus". It turned out many of the groups involved in the open houses didn't know some of the other groups even existed. Dikun and Berry Merriam said even just the personnel learning about other local services is a huge step toward making services in Haliburton a cohesive unit.

The committee was updated on data collection with regard to Patient Accomodation/Waiting List Survey. This survey was a one-day census to determine the number of occupied beds in Haliburton and the number of Haliburton residents being cared for elsewhere outside the county. The results of that survey are currently being tabulated and will be available to the committee shortly.

The committee is also working with the Ministry of Health to determine the most appropriate tool for assessing accomodation in area hospitals and facilities. Two methods are currently under study, one called the Alberta Assessment Placement Instrument and one put out by the Office of Senior Citizens Affairs.

The final topic of discussion involved the results of an intensive collation of services in Haliburton County. The Service Delivery Inventory is a detailed profile of agencies covering every service in health, social services and housing available in the county. Each profile includes the agency name, location, description of services, a utilization graph and other important factors such as referrals (if necessary), fees involved, eligibility, caseloads and proposed changes.

The inventory is an interesting look at the current health and welfare service industry in Haliburton. Copies of it are available to the public. The next Steering Committee meeting is scheduled to take place on August 21.

Heavy games popular

said Andy Campbell, one of the key organizers of the event. He said he is not sure whether the proceeds from the gate will even be enough for the games to break even this year.

However, Campbell says the support from all the sponsors and the municipality is strong enough that there is no question the games will be back again next year.

"Without their support we wouldn't be able to carry on," Campbell admitted. He said the organizers are hoping to attract a major sponsor for next year, which would be a big help.

Although the attendance was low, Campbell is confident many of the 1,000 people who came out to Glebe Park last year will be back in the future. It was clear that everyone enjoyed the events, especially the heavy events that were new this year.

"There was a good response from the crowds," said Campbell, "especially to the heavy events. Those guys really put on a show."

With the obvious drawing ability of the heavy events, Campbell said the games organizers are looking at the possibility of expanding those events again for next year. If the organizers can bring the "Supreme Heavy Games" to Haliburton next year, it will bring with it more bands, competitors and spectators. However, Campbell says they need the blessing of the Ontario piping association to do this. The games committee would also have to pay more money to secure these events, he said.

Bowron Homestead a delightful step back

by Carol Moffatt

Minden's historic Bowron house is finally homestead, sweet homestead.

After two years of dismantling, moving, rebuilding, replacing and generally fixing the place up, the Museum Committee hosted the grand opening of the home to the public Saturday.

In 1988 the property on which the home had stood since 1864 was sold to the Pentney's who wanted to build the new Home Hardware. Museum volunteers worked for eight days straight to get the place ship shape enough to cart through town to where it now stands behind the Agnes Jamieson Gallery.

It was anything but an easy task. First no one wanted to undertake to move it. When Marshall Dudman finally agreed, the roof had to come off in order to get the house under hydro wires in Main Street.

Then the steel beams Dudman tried to use to lift the house bent. Then one end of the house couldn't be put on the truck because it was anchored in bedrock. In the end it all worked out and, with a line of rubberneckers and an OPP escort, the house made it to its final resting place.

George Hewitt set about renovating the house. Some logs were rotted and had to be replaced. Years of flour sacks, newspapers and other 'stuff' had been layered on the interior log walls for insulation. The pine floors were a mess. The outside was covered with a variety of finishings and the place didn't look much like a historic home of any sort.

A year's hard work by the Museum Committee and a slew of volunteers has made a world of difference and the Bowron home now represents a different age.

The interior walls and ceilings have been whitewashed. Museum Committee member Stan Hill said pioneers whitewashed their walls to keep the bugs out. It's difficult to tell which beams and posts have been replaced; the floors look wonderful and overall it doesn't look like such a bad place to have lived.

The committee spent a lot of money on the project. Although they own most of the furnishings in the house, many were donated or are being lent for the summer.

But, oh what furnishings they are. Handwoven rag rugs lie on the floor, antique photographs of real people hang on the wall— people in funny clothes with funny hairstyles who lived here and walked the same streets as current Mindenites.

An organ dated between 1870 and 1900 stands majestically against the parlour wall, a staunch repesentative of a lifetime ago. A delicate brocade seat sits demurely in a corner, a delicate reminder of an era of femininity long gone. A small bedroom is decorated with hand-made lace clothing, ornate hair combs and shimmering satin gloves. Pitcher and bowl sets and chamber pots are subtle hints as to how lucky — and advanced — we are.

Upstairs a utility, or sewing, room appears to have been vacated by the occupant only moments ago. A patchwork quilt lies in the sewing machine, a dressmaker's dummy wears a suit, and hats of lace and ostrich feathers hang on hooks. A spinning wheel stands in a corner and the only light source is a small window overlooking the countryside.

The attic bedroom, which would Museum committee member and oldest pioneer Mindenite Dick Kirkwood gives an antique fountain pen a try at the kitchen desk in the Bowron homestead. The pen is part of a 'travelling desk' which is sitting in front of Kirkwood. The home has taken two years to get ready for the public and is now open.

Gallery showing well worth a visit

by Carol Moffatt

Beautiful photography, surreal paintings and intricate sculptures lie in wait for visitors to the Agnes Jamieson Gallery.

Until July 14, photographs by Dorothea Hooper and creations by artist Claudio Mestroni are on display.

Originally, the show was only supposed to consist only of Hooper's work. However, a recent show virtually depleted her library of photos and Mestroni was called in to help. "It was a nice surprise," said Mestroni. This show is his first.

Mestroni recently moved from Toronto to Minden where he has been a cottager for 30 years. He was born in Italy and began painting at the age of 16. He is currently taking a break from the city in order to concentrate on his artwork.

His paintings consist mostly of nature images: native Indians and animals, although he does landscapes and portraits as well. He paints and draws in oils and charcoal, and sculpts three-dimensional images from moose antler.

The sculptures are finely detailed and delicate. One of the antler sculptures details a hawk's head with the body of the bird simply fading into the raw bone of the antler. This striking piece sits about eight inches off the surface and is difficult to ignore.

Hooper is the Head of the Photography Department and a Teaching Master at St. Clair College. She has received several awards for her work, including the KINSA (Kodak) Honors Award for three years from 1979 to 1981. She is involved in photography workshops, sits on several advisory committees and has had her work published in many Canadian publications.

Hooper's photography is rich in colour and consists of macro, or close-up, work as well as various kinds of landscapes. One photo of a fence submerged in a receding waterline has remarkable depth of field that makes the observer feel as though he could simply walk into the lake.

Hooper has, in several instances, taken an every-day object — like a water tap amid a pile of leaves — and isolated it to create an interesting look at the ordinary. So, too, is a rather mundane fence brought to life. Hooper's photographic eye is detailed and the results are wonderful to see.

Photographer Dorothea Hooper and local artist Claudio Mestroni are sharing the Agnes Jamieson Gallery walls with their work. Hooper has been showing in galleries for some time but this is Mestroni's first display. Hooper's photographic detail and Mestroni's detailed carvings are a must-see.

Kids' Korner

by Jean Lacey

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

WHERE EVERYONE IS SOMEONE AND JESUS CHRIST IS LORD!

Tour is a collection of moments in time

An organ built between 1870 and 1900 now stands in the newly refurbished Bowron homestead parlour. The organ was donated to the museum by Murray and Phyllis Sisson and helps create the aura of authenticity inside the house.

have been the children's room, is equipped with a four-poster rope bed with feather ticking, an iron crib, a tiny, wooden desk, a trunk and a dresser. Several pieces of handmade, lace-trimmed child's clothing lie about and a wool cape hand-trimmed with black braid hangs on a hook, almost waiting for a child to arrive. Again, the only light source is a small window out of which young children probably couldn't even see.

The steep and narrow staircase is something to be considered with care. At its base, in the kitchen, sits a flip-front writing desk on which sits a small travelling desk that looks like the first take on a briefcase. It is made of wood, purple velvet, and several compartments for fountain pens, ink pots and a blotter.

A box stove rests in a corner of the kitchen. A table, a sideboard and a hutch containing dishes are the only furnishings. Some photos decorate the walls, but the kitchen generally indicates the simplicity of the lifestyle.

A second kitchen, built in the 1920s, is attached to one side of the house. It is full of remnants of the day. A wooden icebox, a flour grinder, a hand pump and well bucket and a big, old wood stove. These are all moments of a time most people, especially young people, cannot comprehend. And all of it is fascinating.

Throughout the summer, historic walks will take place each Thursday afternoon through the town of Minden. Leo Dobrzensky will be the pioneer hostess for the homestead and, along with Dick Kirkwood, she will take the walking tours around town. On Tuesdays Dobrzensky will host pioneer activities in and around the homestead.

The Museum Committee is hoping get a drive shed built this fall. Dozens of items have been donated to the museum but with nowhere to keep the relics, none can be displayed and most remain with the donors. The committee also hopes to build a replica of the Bethel Church on the same location in the near future. All of the plans require money, though, and the committee is careful about depleting its funds too quickly.

The Bowron Homestead has settled for the last time. It doesn't stand exactly as it stood originally, but it's a symbol of the late 1800s and for the fun of stepping into a time warp, it's well worth the visit.

Bus Trip

Wednesday, June 13 was a pleasant morning when passengers went on board the bus chartered by Minden Women's Institute with Bill Lamayore as driver. Then we arrived at Cullen Gardens, where a guide gave the history of the area. Luncheon was great in the Solarium and everyone was pleased with the colourful miniature village, carnival setting along the river, as well as the new Summer Resort area with boats on the river and trains arriving at intervals.

The apiary sets were colourful as were the seasonal flowers among the village of tiny homes and stores. Then on to Markham Museum, butt too busy, the village was not yet open. From here on to Oshawa Centre going the wrong way part of the time. After a meal or shopping, on board for the trip home. Song books were ready and we "sang" the bus home. Hopefully all had a pleasant day.

Controversy over kids continues

Editor:

Regarding Pete's Place, The Hang Out!! Quotes:

"If they don't behave themselves, they're out!"

One person was banned from Pete's Place but this person still sits outside on the step in front of Pete's, causing problems.

"The businesses are causing all the problems and these people should lower their noses and give these kids our understanding."

These businesses are not causing the problems and most definitely should be making more noises about these kids.

Pete and Marg said they have "hands on experience" with these kids. I don't know what hands on experience they have but they do not ever notice or deal with anything; the kids just do as they please.

Now I am telling you first hand that there is drinking that goes on all the time in front of Pete's Place and they have never noticed or come out and handled the situation. They (the kids) also play their music very loud and nothing is ever said to them about it. The kids are constantly using foul language and nothing is ever said about that. The kids are forever spinning their tires and ripping in and out of the parking lot, coming very close to the steps and of course nothing is ever said to them about that.

The kids throw their pop cans, empty cigarette packages, garbage and empty their ashtrays in the parking lot and nothing is ever said to them about that. Mind you, I have seen Pete out there on occasion picking up some of the pop cans and empty chip cartons.

Now Pete and Marg Worrell are asking for support. You are asking how do I know so much about this whole ordeal. Well, let me just tell you. I am the tenant above the stores so I have good reason to put my two cents in.

Pete and Marg may be for the kids which is wonderful and they are certainly right about the kids needing a youth centre but their place in definitely not it. You cannot have a hangout where there are families living in the same place, especially when they're not handling or noticing these situations.

I have a six-and-a-half-year-old boy who gets an eye and earful every day and night. Now as a tenant who pays good hard-earned money to live there, I have to deal with the kids littering, foul language, loud music, drinking, ripping in and out of the parking lot and, worst of all, sitting on my car!

I must say I do tend to get upset about this and I feel with good reason, too. So on many occasions I have said to the kids this is not a hangout and if they are not in the stores they have no business being there, so take it elsewhere! Not once has Pete or Marg come out and said there are families living up there, could you kids tone it down. Also, Pete and Marg can lock up their store at night and go home. I as the tenant have to keep putting up with this because this is my home. Now I ask you the public, is this fair? Why should I have to deal with this? How can we solve this because they can't continue to behave like that and get away with this. My tolerance is next to nil when it comes to these kids and one of them is going to tell me off one time too many and unfortuately when they push me too far and I take matters into my own hands, it will be me in the hot water and the kids will still be getting away with it.

Well, you can say call the police and let them handle this. Yes, I have called the police on several occasions and asked them to tell the kids to leave and tell them this is not a hangout. They cannot seem to do that. For some reason their hands are tied. I have also had an officer tell me one thing and yet another officer say the opposite. This leaves me beating my head against the wall and worst of all, summer has just started!

A very concerned tenant,
Mrs. Margo Hamilton

Kinette of the Year

Bev Pettes' work with the Minden Kinettes was recently recognized when she was named Kinette of the year. Pettes received her award from Kinette president Ruth Travers.

Rotary executive installed

by Bill Roszell

On Monday June 25, the Rotary Club of Minden installed their new slate of officers for the coming year.

Immediate Past President: Russ Paul. President; Brian Adamson. President Elect; Ron Gambell. Secretary; Gil Scott. Treasurer; Cec Rowe. Directors; Paul Sisson, Pat Murphy, Ed Burke, Tom Dawson and Don Hall.

For Your Service

In his remarks to the club, outgoing president Russ thanked the club for their support of his efforts over the past year. It has been a good one.

Incoming president Brian remarked on the proud tradition of community service the club has had in Minded since it was chartered in 1947. He cited as an example the $30,000 donated to various community projects over the past six months.

Carnival time is coming soon. Chairman Peter Bennett has outlined the plans for the big show in July 25. Starting at 5 p.mn. there will be barbecued beef on a bun, Walter Barnes and the Brass Quintessence, clowns, games for everyone with dancing and a fireworks display later. The draw for a $1,000 bill will be held at 11 p.m. Peter just wants everyone to come and enjoy.

For bingo lovers, Tuesday

Acid rain report

The following report on precipitation events was recorded at the Ministry of Environment acid rain testing station in Dorset and compiled by Environment Canada.

This report covers the period of June 17 to June 23, 1990.

June 17, 1 mm rain, 4.0 pH, from Ohio and Southern Ontario.

June 18, 1 mm rain, 4.5 pH, from Michigan, Lake Huron and Central Ontario.

June 21, 6 mm rain, 4.2 pH, from Michigan and Southern Ontario.

June 22, 5 mm rain, 4.0 pH, from Michigan and Southern Ontario.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

Mega Bingo coming

is still the big night of the week. We have now moved downstairs in the arena so there is room for all and smoke is not a problem. Prizes are still $50 per game with lots more for the specials. The jackpot can now get you up to $500 for a full card and the sky is the limit on the 'Winner take all' game. Don't forget the opening Mega Bingo on August 5 and Sept. 2.

Cec Rowe, our treasurer and bingo chairman, was honoured at last Monday's meeting with his second Paul Harris fellowship. This award, named after the founder of Rotary, was made by the club to recognise Cec's outstanding community service over many years. Congratulations Cec.

Water restrictions begin next week

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Starting next Monday, water-use restrictions will be in effect in the village of Minden.

Last Thursday council passed a resolution to put the water restriction by-law into effect as of July 9.

Under the by-law residents of the village will only be able to use water for outdoor purposes during certain times and on certain days of the week.

People living on the north side of the Gull River will be able to use water for outside purposes on Mondays and Thursdays between the hours of 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. and on Saturdays between the hours of 6 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Those living on the south side of the Gull River will be allowed to use water for outdoor purposes on Tuesdays and Fridays between the hours of 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. and on Sundays from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Use of water for outdoor purposes during all other times is prohibited under the by-law.

"Outside use" of water includes washing cars, animals and surfaces, watering vegetation, use in pools and hot tubs and any other water uses except for food and water for human and animal consumption.

If the area experiences heavy rainfall over a prolonged period, council may lift the restrictions and will advertise any changes in The Times.

People found guilty of contravening the by-law are subject to a fine of $50 for each offense. Each day the by-law is contravened will be considered a separate offense.

For more information contact the municipal office of Anson, Hindon and Minden.

Province to get funding for technological renewal

The Ontario Government will spend $12 million this year to renew technological education in 134 schools across the province, Education Minister Sean Conway has announced.

The funding is the first step in the Ministry's $60 million, five-year Technological Education Equipment Renewal Fund, which begins in 1990-91, and is designed to restructure technological education in Ontario to reflect the changing economy of the 1990s.

"It is clear that science and technology are playing an increasingly vital role in our lives as we adjust to the new realities of global competition," Conway said. "It is crucial that we renew our educational system to ensure that Ontario's young people have the skills and resources they need for their future in the emerging knowledge-and-technology-based global economy."

The fund will help school boards to acquire the machines, computers, and other equipment needed to implement Ontario's new technological studies program. This program will assist students to strengthen flexible, adaptable skills in five key areas: communications, construction, manufacturing, services, and transportation.

School boards will use funds to replace old equipment and to purchase new technological systems, including computer-assisted design (CAD) and computer-assisted manufacturing (CAM), programmable logical controls (PLCs), desktop publishing, and video/audio equipment.

Under this fund, schools are eligible to receive up to $200,000, which includes a local and a provincial share. Under the criteria set out by the ministry, if school boards raise $12,500 locally from business, industry, and labour groups, the province will match this amount dollar for dollar. In addition, boards are eligible for up to $175,000 in provincial funding, depending on their rate of grant. It is estimated that the average total grant a school could receive will be $143,750.

The Technological Education Equipment Renewal Fund, announced in January 1990, supports the Government's $354 million, five-year commitment to restructure education in Ontario.

"This government is committed to providing all Ontarians with access to a quality education experience," Conway said. "We have already begun a wide consultation process with educators and other community leaders to ensure that the changes now taking place in our schools will better prepare our students for their future."

Bowron homestead tours

by Stan Hill

Each Tuesday and Thursday, Leo Dobrzensky invites you to join her at the Bowron Home for refreshments, chats and activities related to Minden's heritage.

On Tuesday, July 3, Leo will spend the morning exploring our museum and Bowron Home. Join her at 1 p.m. and find out about her early life in Czechoslovakia, her recent return trip after 42 years where she and her husband saw many changes in the country they love.

Where did Leo gain her rich heritage experiences which gave her the interest in writing two books of the Haliburton area and the desire to share her wealth of information with us in friendly chats, heritage walks and pioneer activities?

On Thursday, July 5 at 10 a.m., children are invited to join Leo for a short chat about native Indians from this area, refreshments and some active pioneer games.

At 1 p.m. everyone is invited to accompany Leo and Richard Kirkwood, a true Minden pioneer, on a ramble around Minden with stories and pictures from the past.

We are truly fortunate to have Leo Dobrzenksy at the Bowron Home each Tuesday and Thursday. Don't miss any of the planned activities which are supported by New Horizons.

IMPROVING YOUR ODDS AGAINST CANADA'S #1 KILLER.

Fundamental #1:

"COULD YOU SELL YOUR OWN HOME?"

Of course you could! But, whether you should or would even want to will depend largely on your answers to these questions.

1 Do you have sufficient knowledge of current (and ever-changing) market conditions to price your home properly, to put it on the market at a price that will be attractive both to yourself and prospective buyers?

2 Do you have the skills to advertise and market your property effectively? Do you know how much advertising costs?

3 Do you have a network of contacts who can produce potential buyers for your home?

4 Are you a good negotiator? Will you be unnerved by aggressive buyers looking for bargains?

5 Do you have time to show your home to prospects? They'll want to look around when it's convenient to them, not necessarily to you.

6 Even if you have the time, can you deal objectively with negative comments some prospects may make about your home? Not everyone will share your taste in decor or appreciate your improvements.

7 Can you determine who among prospects is serious and has the necessary assets to buy, as opposed to someone who is merely making frivolous enquiries? You could be stuck with a buyer who can't get mortgage financing when the deal is about to close.

8 And speaking of mortgages, are you able to help a prospect arrange the necessary financing?

9 Are you conversant with the many laws and regulations that affect property ownership? You could find yourself in some difficulty with a buyer to whom you've not disclosed certain facts because you didn't know about them.

Most people feel they have neither the time nor the skills to undertake the sale of a home. They prefer to rely on REALTORS — licensed or registered real estate specialists who are members of their local real estate board.

REALTORS can answer 'yes' to all the above questions. REALTOR services make the transfer of property from one owner to another as painless as possible for all concerned. REALTORS can put an army of salespeople to work selling your home through the Multiple Listing Service (MLS) but you deal with only one person — the REALTOR you select. And, you'll pay that REALTOR not one cent unless or until your house is sold, no matter how long it stays on the market.

REALTORS subscribe to a strict Code of Ethics. They work in the communities where they live. The most successful among them do well because they generate repeat business from satisfied clients.

PUBLIC INSPECTION OF THE APPROVED TIMBER MANAGEMENT PLAN FOR THE MINDEN CROWN UNIT AND ANNUAL WORK SCHEDULE

The Ministry of Natural Resources has now approved the Timber Management Plan for the Crown lands of the district, shown shaded on the map below. You are invited to inspect the plan between July 4 and August 7, 1990, during normal office hours, at the Minden District Office on Highway 35 in Minden. If you have a specific area of interest, you should first call for an appointment with the plan's author, Peter Hynard (705-286-1521), to be sure that he will be there to answer your questions.

Timber management plans are prepared and implemented to ensure a sustainable and continued timber supply from Crown lands in Ontario to local forest industries, in order to provide both employment and forest products. The plan for the Minden Crown Unit will govern all forestry activities to be carried out on this area from 1990 to 1995. including logging, reforestation, stand improvement work and the construction of any new main logging roads. The plan also contains details on calculations of sustainable harvest levels and on modifications to protect other Crown land interests and environmental values.

This will be your final opportunity to inspect the approved plan prior to its implementation. Persons who have serious objections to the plan may seek an individual environmental assessment under the Environmental Assessment Act up until August 7. Persons who have no serious objections but who simply wish to inspect the plan may do so at any time throughout the year.

You may view the 1990-91 Annual Work Schedule for the Minden Crown Unit at the same time. The Annual Work Schedule outlines those questions which will be conducted during the 1990-91 operating year.

For additional information on the Timber Management Plan for the Minden Crown Unit or on any other aspect of forest management in this area, contact the Ministry of Natural Resources, Minden, Ontario K0M 2K0 (telephone 705- 286-1521).

Report from Ottawa

With Bill Scott, MP

The House of Commons is moving quickly to make Parliament Hill an environmental model for the rest of Canada.

An unbelievable amount of paper flows through the many offices on the Hill. So on September 18, 1989, the House of Commons began a fine paper recycling program. The scheme has been a great success; 2,700 blue boxes are in use, and 48,000 kilograms of paper are recycled each month. At that rate, it is estimated the program will save 5,000 trees a year—or about 25 acres of forest that might otherwise be harvested.

Another bright idea currently being tested is the use of energy-efficient light bulbs. While they may cost more than the old incandescent type, the Parliamentarian who burns the midnight oil will save in the long run.

The energy-efficient bulb will burn for 10,000 hours and use one-quarter of the energy required by a standard bulb, which will only burn for around 750 hours.

But the benefits don't end there; the newer bulb can also result in less pollution. The energy-efficient bulb requires less power. This means it places less strain on the hydro grid, which is fueled, in part, by fossil fuels, the burning of which creates greenhouse gases. The energy saving is impressive: it is estimated that over its full projected lifetime, one energy-efficient bulb can save enough oil to drive a typical economy car halfway across Canada. Twelve hundred such bulbs are currently in use on the Hill.

A lot of coffee is consumed in and around Parliament Hill. And, until recently, this involved the use of a huge number of foam cups—40,000 per month!

To put an end to this wasteful practice, the Parliamentary Restaurant Services have replaced foam cups with reusable ones for use in committee, caucus and meeting rooms. The trend seems to be accelerating, as it is not uncommon to see Hill staff drinking their drink of choice from a favourite mug instead of from a sterile foam container.

A final example—though there are many others—of the move toward a more environmentally friendly Hill is a doubling of the number of bike racks for MPs and Hill staff. While only the hardiest souls bike in winter, the warm season is a time when hundreds choose this cheap, invigorating and pollution-free mode of transport.

There is a lot we can do to change our wasteful ways, and the best place to start is with our everyday activities. The changes in and around Parliament Hill, and the tangible benefits they bring, are shining examples of this principle at work.

We're growing!

Equity plan adopted by board

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

The Haliburton County Board of Education adopted an employment equity plan at last Tuesday's meeting.

The plan, which takes effect Sept. 1, is designed to provide equal opportunity for hiring, training and promotion of all employees and eliminate barriers to employment opportunities.

The ad hoc committee which developed the plan was comprised of four trustees, three students and seven staff members.

To deal with the issue, the committee divided the plan into six elements of employment equity; attitude, communication, staff recruiting, learning environment, extra-curricular activities and sexual harassment.

To help promote an attitude among students that employment opportunities are not based on gender, the board hopes to make students aware of non-traditional job opportunities.

To accompish this goal, the plan spells out a strategy involving several activities designed to increase awareness.

This strategy includes inviting area residents who have non-traditional jobs to speak to classes of students and hosting career days which encourage equal participation in math, sciences and computer technology.

It is also suggested that parents and teachers should begin reinforcing this attitude in primary students and attitudes and expectations of male and female students should be examined.

Other attitude-related objectives in the plan include reinforcing feeling of importance for all employee roles in the board and equalizing opportunities for extra-curricular activities.

This includes increasing co-ed programs, encouraging students to create new, non-sporting, programs, and the establishment of an affirmative action committee for students.

The employment equity plan also wants to encourage women to prepare for leadership roles by exploring attitudes and practices that commonly discriminate against women and providing incentives for women to further their education and obtain additional qualifications.

In the area of communication, the plan calls for the evaluation and improvement of the awareness levels of all employee groups and students and to improve self awareness of career development for all women employees.

In order to address inequalities in extra-curricular activities, the board is planning to increase emphasis on the girls' sports program at the secondary level, including a provision to provide equal funding for girls' and boys' sports activities.

The board's employment equity plan also encourages the use of language by all staff and in all board documents which eliminates gender discrimination and to provide curriculum materials free of outdated sexual bias and stereotypes.

Jaws fund growing

Minden and District Lions President Daryl Moore presents Stanhope Fire Department Chief Bob Nangle with a cheque for $500 to go towards Stanhope's Jaws for Life fund. The fund currently stands around $6,000, one third of the way to the $18,000 goal.

Cabinet committee established

A Cabinet Committee has been established to provide coordination of government programs, policies and initiatives in Eastern Ontario, Premier David Peterson announced.

Peterson said that the committee is being established to help ensure Eastern Ontario is positioned to take the fullest advantage of economic, environmental and social opporunities in the area.

The committee will be chaired by Richard Patten, minister of correctional services. Members include Ken Black, minister of tourism and recreation, and responsible for the Anti-Drug Strategy; Sean Conway, minister of education, colleges and universities and skills development; Hugh O'Neil, minister of culture and communications and minister of mines; Monte Kwinter, minister of industry, trade and technology; Gilles Morin, minister responsible for senior citizens affairs; Lyn McLeod, minister of energy and minister of natural resources and David Ramsay, minister of agriculture and food.

The provincial government has a number of major initiatives underway in Eastern Ontario now, including revitalization of local industries and numerous transportation, health, education and environment improvements.

The new Cabinet Committee will enhance these significant accomplishments. It will also consult with government officials at all levels and the private sector, to identify options for long-term socio-economic development in the area.

The premier said Patten will be an effective chairman for the committee.

"Richard's knowledge of Eastern Ontario, coupled with his evident enthusiasm and commitment will help ensure the success," Peterson said.

"I am confident that this new Cabinet Committee will help to address the unique economic and social challenges in Eastern Ontario," the premier concluded.

Women's Institute summer plans

Mary Cox, Secretary

On June 20 at 12 noon, members and friends of the Minden Women's Institute met in the United Church Hall. After singing the W.I. Grace, a delicious pot luck lunch was enjoyed by all. Following this the meeting was called to order by the 1st Vice President, Irene Moore, assisted by the 2nd Vice President, Mabel Deacon. O Canada and the Opening Ode were sung, then all repeated the Mary Stewart Collect and the Lords Prayer. The roll call was answered by 16 members and 6 visitors were welcomed. The minutes of the May meeting were read and approved. After the treasurer's report, the card report was given by Irene Moore. Collections for this and Pennies for Friendship were taken. Bills for the flag stand and printing of the programmes were paid.

The Women's Institute bake sale will be on July 27.

District events to come are: Craft day on August 8 in Fenelon Falls Legion from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission will be $1 which includes lunch at noon. There will be a display of crafts by W.I. members, also anyone can rent a space to sell their crafts. A fall tea will be held on October 18, at the same place.

Mrs. Flett said the district plan to set up a W.I. and recycling display at the Minden Fall Fair and will need 16 feet of space for same, also some help on Saturday morning.

The meeting closed by singing the Queen.

The next meeting will be September 19, so enjoy the summer break ladies!

Two visitors, Mrs. Audrey Thrasher, District Presidents, and Mrs. Wendy Flett, District Secretary thanked the members for their invitation, as they always enjoy the fellowship at the Minden W.I. Meetings.

FREE: Free to a good home: I've had lots of calls about MacArthur, the 3 yr old neutered Shepherd-Husky. He's lively, fun and really smart. He sits, fetches, walks on a leash and comes on command, but he's not a companion who will sit at your feet. He needs playtime and must be outside a lot. A family with kids or a very active senior would be perfect. He doesn't heel or stay yet, so he must be walked on a leash and kept on a running line. He responds quickly to training and needs a firm attentive environment. I have lines, leash, bowls, brush and inseparable toy. Call Carol at 286-1288 days. 7Atfn.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to express my thanks to my family & friends who attended my surprise retirement party held in my honour June 23, 1990 at the Royal Canadian Legion, Minden Branch. It was a lovely surprise. Special thanks also to the Legion Ladies who served a delicious roast beef dinner.

Oswald Snell

The wife and family of the late Nelson Archer wish to thank all those who gave us support and prayers during our recent loss. The beautiful cards, visits, food brought in and donations were very much appreciated and will always be a remembrance of the caring friends we have. Thanks to Gordon Monk and staff for their kindness during a very difficult time. Also Rev. Ed Moll for a comforting service.
Nellie, Dorothy, Robert and Susan.

How grateful we are to our family Larry and Glenda Atkins and their families for a Super 50th Anniversary Celebration at Haliburton Legion May 26, 1990. Decorations were very tastefully arranged, music excellent as we danced to Frank Howard's Band from Belleville, the buffet was just great, an anniversary tier cake, with our original "bride and groom", and with water fountain under the pillars and fresh flowers at base was beautifully done by Judy Carpenter. We thank our relatives and friends gathered from Toronto, Mississauga, Scarborough, Lindsay, Owen Sound, Ottawa, Belleville, Woodstock, North Bay, Pittsburgh, Bancroft, Haliburton, Minden and Carnarvon areas for making this event a memorable celebration.
Bless you all.

Bud and Muriel Medley

CARD OF THANKS

Class 2B and Mrs. Newell wish to thank all the parents that took time out from their busy schedules to come to the school and talk to us about their occupations. The children gained a lot of information and a better understanding of what jobs are available in our area. Thanks again, we appreciated your visit.

Walkers, Sponsors, and Volunteers: sincerest thanks for your participation in this year's Walk For Water. out of $10,000 pledged, $4,204 has so far been turned in. Please be reminded that monies should be turned in to The Highland Bookkeeping office or Halco this year. Weekday mornings only. We regret any inconvenience that this has caused you.

H.A.V.E. Committee

Thank you to everyone who was concerned during my stay in hospital and while I am recovering at home. The cards, flowers, visits, phone calls and prayers have been much appreciated. Special thanks to Dr. Hick and Dr. Watson and the staff at the Ross Memorial Hospital. Rene Codlin

Thank you to everyone who was concerned during my operation and stay in the hospital. The cards, phone calls & prayers were much appreciated and special thanks to Lions Club of Kinmount and Royal Canadian Legion, Kinmount and Dr. Asbell of Minden and Dr. Hughes

Terry Hartin

We would like to thank all of our family & friends for giving us such a magic evening for our 30th anniversary. The cards, visits & gifts & hard work of preparing & arranging the party are very much appreciated. Thank you to everyone.

IN MEMORIAM

BABINEAU (Nee Hudson).
In loving memory of Colette who passed away July 3, 1988.

We watched you suffer, we heard you sigh,
But all we could do was just stand by.
When that time came we suffered too,
For you never deserved what you went through.
God took your hand, we had to part,
He eased your pain, but broke our hearts.
We know these are the words You would have replied,
"This life for me is truly past,
I loved you all til the very last.
Weep not for me but courage take,
And love one another, for my sake.
Don't cry, I'm only sleeping.
We'll meet again someday."

Loved & sadly missed by parents Al & Meryl Hudson, brother Darryl, sister Marla and family.
